Policy

FutureQuals recognises the importance of language diversity and cultural inclusivity. As an awarding organisation committed to providing educational opportunities, we aim to accommodate the linguistic needs of our learners to the best of our abilities.

However, due to current constraints and considerations, FutureQuals does not currently offer qualifications or assessment materials through the medium of Welsh.

This decision is based on the following factors:

- Current market demand, which varies across regions and sectors.
- Availability of resources required to ensure consistent quality in curriculum development, assessment materials, and quality assurance in Welsh.
